Volume 50, Issue 1

Above: The final dress rehearsal of the 2023 Christmas Pageant • L. Richert

Dear friends,

Like a lot of people my age, I grew up watching Star Trek with my dad, going to see Star Wars with my sisters, and later reading and watching Carl Sagan's Cosmos. The idea of deep space exploration and the possibility of life beyond our planet remains fascinating to me, and I'm enjoying astrophysicist Adam Frank's new The Little Book of Aliens.

Frank recounts wanting to be an astronomer from a very young age, fascinated by his father's collection of science fiction magazines with cover illustrations of astronauts encountering aliens on far-off planets. When he was in graduate school in the 1980's, SETI, the search for extraterrestrial intelligence, was really on the margins of the field, without much funding or respect. Now, that has changed. He writes:

As you read these words, the human species is poised at the edge of its greatest and most important journey. Over the past three decades, the scientific search for life in the universe--a field called astrobiology--has exploded. We've discovered planets everywhere in the galaxy, and we've figured out how and where to look for signs of alien life in the atmospheres of these new worlds. We've also looked deep into Earth's almost four-billion-year history as an inhabited world. From this view we've gained new and powerful insights into how planets and life evolve together.

I still find the possibility of life beyond our planet fascinating, and Frank's book has prompted me to wonder about its theological implications. How would we, as Christians, describe our path to the God of creation to a form of alien life that hasn't experienced the life, ministry, and death of Jesus? What pathways to the divine do other forms of life follow? Are wonder, awe, gratitude, curiosity, and compassion universal spiritual practices?

In an interview in the Rochester Review, Frank is asked "Does studying the possibilities of life in the universe make you more or less appreciative of what exists here on Earth? He responds:

Look, the world is a mess. We can be so horrible to each other! That's why I want people to understand how amazing we are and how amazing the world is. If we just had more appreciation for how extraordinary this world and this universe is, maybe we'd spend less time yelling at each other and more time just having a sense of awe. Science is a(n)...antidote to the endless anger and recrimination that happens with human beings.

In awe of the miracle of the creation of each of you.

Peace, Paul

Year End Finance Presentation

In-Person: March 3 at 11:30 am

On Zoom: March 5 at 6:30 pm

The 2023 Financial Statements and 2024 Budget will be presented to the congregation during an in-person forum on Sunday, March 3 after the 10 am service in the Chapel, and a Zoom forum on Tuesday, March 5 at 6:30 pm.

SJM Community Reads

Production: A Raisin in the Sun
Sunday, March 3, 2-5:00 pm

There's an old saying that you can't know a person well until you've walked a mile in their shoes. This is the rationale behind the Social Justice Ministry's sponsoring an unrehearsed reading of Lorraine Hansberry's play "A Raisin in the Sun" on Sunday, March 3 from 2 – 5:00 pm in the Chapel.

This play portrays a Black family in mid-twentieth century America trying to move from a crowded apartment to a home in a white neighborhood. By inviting people of any complexion to read the parts, one can step into the shoes of a different ethnic identity and experience how that person feels and acts, thus gaining empathy with a different person's perspective.

Please register by Wednesday, February 28 so that the director can cast parts. To register, contact Barbara Mackey King online (barmackey@comcast.net) or by telephone (734-222-9609.) Please include: your name, e-mail or street address, telephone, the gender you would like to read, your approximate age, and any roles you would like to be considered for. In case of multiple requests, roles will be shared. Roles you may wish to play include: Lena Younger – the matriarch of the family; Walther Lee Younger – her son, 35 years old; Ruth Younger – his wife; Travis Younger – his son, 10 years old; Beneatha Younger – his younger sister, a college student; Joseph Asagai – a college friend of Beneatha's, from Nigeria; George Murchison – college friend of Beneatha's; Mrs. Johnson – a neighbor; Karl Lindner – a man from the white neighborhood; Bobo – a friend of Walter's.

This absorbing and explosive play has become a classic not only of Black theatre, but of all American drama. Please join us in the reading. A $10 suggested donation will be collected at the door in to pay for the duplication of scripts.

Free CPR Class

Wednesday, April 17, 2-5:30 pm

This is your opportunity to receive training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) as well as learn how to use an automatic defibrillator (AED). Open to the entire parish, an AED/CPR class will be offered on Wednesday, April 17, 2-5:30 pm, in the Chapel. We will receive instruction, practice with manikins, and learn to locate and use the AED machine. There is NO CHARGE and ALL are welcome: both to learn specific skills and also to learn how to help in an emergency. For more information, please contact Ann Garvin (agarvin224@aol.com).

To Register: contact the Church Office by Wednesday, March 27 (663-0518). Enrollment is limited (minimum/maximum numbers).

Lent + Holy Week Events

Episcopal Relief and Development Sunday

The First Sunday in Lent: February 18

Episcopal Relief & Development (ERD; formerly “The Presiding Bishop’s Fund for World Relief”) is an international relief and development agency and a compassionate response to human suffering on behalf of The Episcopal Church of the United States. The work of ERD, to heal a hurting world, is guided by the principles of compassion, dignity and generosity.

As supporters of ERD, we take our mandate from the words of Jesus, found in Matthew 25:37-40, that call us to feed the hungry, care for the sick and welcome the stranger.

Donation envelopes for ERD will be available in the Narthex and on the Welcome Table beginning on February 18, and you may also donate online. For more information about Episcopal Relief and Development: <http://www.er-d.org/AboutUs>.

The Book of Jonah

*Thursdays: February 29, March 7, March 14
6:00 pm in the Lounge*

Join me in the Lounge for light refreshments and a discussion of the book of Jonah on Thursday, February 29, March 7, and March 14 at 6:00 pm (we'll end by 7:10 so folks can make it upstairs to choir rehearsal). Jonah explores some fascinating questions: What does it mean to say no (or yes) to God's call? What is the nature of prophecy? What is God's sense of justice and fairness? And, it is filled with humor and magical realism that seem to try and undermine its seriousness.

Please let me know if you have questions. I understand life happens, so I'll do my best to catch people up if you need to miss a session I'd love to have a sense of about how many people might attend, so if you would RSVP to me if you think of it: pfrolick@standrewsaa.org (but come anyway if you forget to RSVP).

Peace, Paul

Church School Happenings

February and March. Can there be any two worse months in Michigan? Easter comes early this year, so let's hope Spring does too.

In the elementary grades we are currently learning stories from the New Testament. Rite 13 is still focusing on becoming young adults. And J2A is planning their Pilgrimage for the first week that school is out.

Ash Wednesday is on Valentine's Day, February 14, this year. How unfortunate.

Daylight Savings time returns March 10.

First day of Spring March 19 (ya, right).

Palm Sunday is March 24. No Church School this day. AAPS break March 25-29.

Easter Sunday is March 31. No Church School this day. Yes, Easter Egg Hunt.

It's so appropriate that Lent comes at this time of year, isn't it? Please come and we'll lead up to a joyous Easter!

But before Lent, we will bring back the Carnivale. Instead of on Mardi Gras (Fat Tuesday), it will be Sunday, February 11, after church. Games for kids. Chicory coffee and beignets for adults. Come to the parish hall for all the fun!

Breakfast Updates

We had a wonderful holiday season in the dining room here at St. Andrew's. On Thanksgiving, we served quite a feast. In addition to our regular breakfast menu, we served Thanksgiving dinner (at 7:30 a.m.!) complete with ham, macaroni and cheese, stuffing, green beans, cranberry sauce and pumpkin muffins. Some of our guests packed the dinner to go for later in the day, but most of them sat here in the dining room and enjoyed the holiday meal and conversation.

The festivities continued throughout December. Our sexton, Matt Marsh, brought the Christmas tree out of storage and our volunteers donated ornaments to decorate it. A special thank you to Kathleen Fitzgerald and her husband Martin for "fluffing" the greens and putting the lights on our tree. We hosted a Christmas party later in the month and were able to give our guests warm turtlenecks, thermal underwear, socks, scarves, hats and gloves. Thank you to the nurse anesthetists at Mott Hospital and to all of the St. Andrew's parishioners for making this possible with generous donations of warm clothing.

On Christmas morning, more than 15 dedicated volunteers showed up to prepare and serve a holiday meal including ham, sweet and sour meatballs, mashed potatoes and warm vegetables. (We are so very grateful to Food Gatherers whose food donations enabled us to provide these holiday meals while staying well within our budget.) Fr. Paul played beautiful Christmas music on the piano in the dining room, and we all enjoyed a special holiday morning together.

I recently had an opportunity to sit down with Lucy Ann Lance to talk about the Breakfast Program. The interview aired several times during the week before Christmas on the four Cumulus radio stations. I am planning to update the Breakfast Program website and Facebook page in the next couple of weeks and will post the interview link there. In the meantime, I have attached the link for those of you who may be interested in listening to it:

<https://www.lucyannlance.com/audio/122523/nishi.mp3>

As we move into the new year, we are looking forward to welcoming new volunteers to our team and trying new menu items. I continue to be grateful for the opportunity to spend each morning with our guests and the amazing volunteers who show up every day to serve. This is truly a team effort, and we are blessed to have the support of so many as we work to offer food and friendship to those who are struggling.
