

WELCOME TO SAINT ANDREW'S

Whoever you are and wherever you find yourself on the journey of faith, you are welcome here.

Please fill out a welcome card, found in the pew rack, then put it in the offering plate or give it to one of the clergy following the service so that we can be in touch with you. For more information about St. Andrew's please visit our website at standrewsaa.org.

If you have a hearing aid equipped with telecoil capability, please note that the church sanctuary has been equipped with this technology.

THE EUCHARIST

The celebration of the Holy Eucharist is an act of joy and praise, which draws its principal meaning from the Easter proclamation of the resurrection. All who are drawn to God and seek Christ are welcome to receive communion.

Wafers will be used for the communion bread. Wine will not be offered. Communion will be distributed at the foot of the chancel steps for those wishing to partake. Ushers will direct you to form a single line down the center aisle as you approach the altar.

GIVE ONLINE!

Offering plates have been placed in the aisle to receive your offering as you come to communion or you can give online at:

CHILDREN

Summertime Stories & Childcare:

All ages are welcome to join us in the Morning Glories classroom during the 10:00 am service for stories, activities, free time, and outside exploration of God's creation! Parents, please pick up your children for communion or at any time through the conclusion of the service.

TODAY

As Covid case counts remain elevated in southeast Michigan we would like to remind everyone that St. Andrew's has NOT changed our mask requirement.

If you are INSIDE our buildings at any time of the day or night; in a group or alone, you MUST wear a mask. Please remember that this is for your protection as well as all of those around you, who might be at risk. We appreciate your cooperation.

Celebrate Juneteenth/Freedom Day by taking a free Black Lives Matter sign for your yard (available in the Narthex). It was on June 19th, 1865 when slaves in Texas finally learned they were actually free.

To Everything There is a Season: Saying Goodbye to St. Andrew's Ann Arbor

My Dear Friends,

When I first began my discernment, I knew that it would take a long time, and at least intellectually, I knew that things would be different... that I would be different. What no one prepares you for, is just how deeply those changes are felt, and how hard it can be to say goodbye. That's one of the things they don't prepare you for in seminary.

Everyone in our diocese who goes through the ordination process knows that they will have to find somewhere else to serve, and that's why I first walked through those big wooden doors in the summer of 2019. There were some familiar faces in the crowd. People I recognized from diocesan events and other functions, but most of you were strangers to me. Nonetheless, I was welcomed with open arms, friendly nods and smiles, and was told to "come back anytime." I don't know if any of you thought that would actually happen, but I am incredibly grateful that it did.

The point of field work in the discernment process is to give those of us in the process the chance to learn what it's like to be in a community other than the one we're used to. One of the great strengths of The Episcopal Church is the rich variety that each congregation represents, because each parish worships in their own way. That's why I wanted to come here to learn, and to serve, because St. Andrew's is very different from the place that I came from. Still, I didn't know exactly what to expect, and whatever expectations I did have? Well, Covid-19 quickly took care of that. A worldwide pandemic is definitely something they do not prepare you for in seminary.

Thanks to the inventiveness and patience of Father Alan, we were able to devise ways for me to serve, even though no one could set foot in the building. So let me say, that you have provided an excellent model for me to follow, because of the trust and ingenuity that you displayed in the early days of the pandemic. From the choir's inspired use of Zoom to continue to provide music even when we couldn't be in the same place, to the relentless dedication of the St. Andrew's Players, you would not stop finding new ways for the Good News to live and flourish. I thank you for your artistry and dedication, and hope you don't mind if I take a small portion of that with me when I go.

The summer of 2020 brought us all together with three small, but powerful words: "I can't breathe." And suddenly I found myself in the middle of a revolution. Another thing they do not prepare you for in seminary. But the Social Justice Ministry was there, and they were ready. They welcomed me to the table, and taught me the value of listening, and acting, not because we should, but because, as children of Christ, there are times when we must. Especially when it might be painful. Thank you, for your resolve and your courage.

Once we were able to come together in person, and the world seemed to turn again. For all of you who asked questions during bible study, weren't afraid to engage in a Wednesday Conversation, helped to bring scripture to life in Evensong, or even gave me a knowing nod during a sermon, you welcomed me into your space. You allowed me to make mistakes, and gave me the precious gift of your time and attention whenever we were in the same place together, and for that, I thank each and every one of you.

When I first came here, I spoke to a number of you, and almost to a person, old, young, new addition, or lifelong member, you all said the same thing: "St. Andrew's is my family." You mean it, you live it, and you feel it. What's more, you helped me feel it too, and it always hurts, at least a little bit, to say goodbye to family. Another thing they don't prepare you for in seminary.

My dear brothers and sisters, Thank You
Rev. Dcn. Eric Braun

Thank you to our extraordinary Vacation Bible School volunteers that provided an exceptional experience for about 30 campers. The essential role of Storyteller was a vivid narrative and interactive role play presented by Sarah Inwood and Lucy Richert. The Marketplace crafts were made especially fun with engaging Shopkeepers Stephanie Barker, Jessica Gronemeyer and teens Addie and Elle McCreadie. And teen Shayna Simon-Jaimon, as Ephraim Assistant Tribe Leader, traveled with 10 children through the unique rotations. We are so grateful for your support and bringing this Bible times experience to life.

MUSIC NOTES

Hymn 174: At the Lamb's high feast we sing

This powerful Easter hymn points to the triumph Christ has won and exults in the joy he has brought us. We sing it today for the feast of Corpus Christi because the first two verses celebrate Jesus as Bread of Life and manna from heaven, as the Gospel lesson describes him. The text is complex and rich, with many biblical references, and various explorations of the various ways Christ has brought us from death to life. The original Latin text may go back as far as 500 A.D. The 17th century German tune, at once stately and joyful, was harmonized by J. S. Bach. -- Donna Wessel Walker
